

QUESTION: With winter fast approaching here in Alaska, I'm getting concerned with the parking situation in Bear Paw.

As I'm sure you're aware, people park on both sides of the narrow streets, making it a hazard now to emergency vehicles. With snow in the roads, it will be impossible to get a large truck by.

When can I expect to see one side of the street parking? Making no parking on the streets will be a hardship as the driveways are not large enough to accommodate guests.

Another idea that may work is to make Silver Fox, and Grey Wolf both one way roads, again with parking on only one side of the street.

ANSWER: The parking will change to one-side only, although there's no date set for it yet. Signs will be going up soon.